Housing Contract

Please carefully read the below Student Housing Agreement (Contract).

You are encouraged to download a copy for your records, or you may refer to our website.

Tip: The Student Housing Agreement (Contract) is a legally binding document, similar to a lease. We encourage you to read the Contract in full and contact us at res-life@luc.edu if you have any questions prior to signing the Contract.

After signing the Contract, you will be taken to a page about renter's insurance. You may choose to purchase insurance or opt-out. Residence Life encourages all students to have renter's insurance. You may come back to the page to obtain renter's insurance if you are unsure.

Continuing Student Roommate Groups

You must have a housing application to appear in the roommate search. If your desired roommates have not yet started their application, you will not be able to add them as roommates.

If you want to find or be found by other students, you must check the box for "I wish to participate in Roommate Searching" on the Roommate Matching Questions page.

Common Issues:

Once you are in a roommate group, you won't be able to be found by other students. If you can't find your preferred roommate, ask them to try sending you a request. They may already have formed a roommate group.

You can't find someone who hasn't started their application.

Gender Inclusive Housing Steps

If you are interested in Gender Inclusive Housing, hit “Yes” on the Roommate Matching Questions page.

Are you interested in more information regarding Gender Inclusive Housing?

Yes

This will take you to the Gender Inclusive Housing Page. You’ll want to select “I meet the criteria above...” in order to find and be found by students who are interested in gender inclusive housing.

Selecting “ I don’t need gender inclusive housing but am open to living with a student who does“ will not allow you to find or be found by gender inclusive roommates. This option is used by housing staff to make potential matches for students without roommates.

Gender Inclusive Housing

The Department of Residence Life strives to create and promote a safe, affirming, and inclusive community for all students living on campus. For that reason, we offer gender inclusive housing options through our housing application process, where students may request to share a room with students of any gender, gender identity, gender expression, or sex. This option was created to better meet the needs of our gender-nonconforming, transgender, non-binary, gender queer, gender fluid, and transitioning students. If you are interested in living in a gender inclusive space with either roommates of your choosing, or with other students who appreciate and respect people with the above identities and lived experiences, please indicate below.

At this time, gender inclusive housing is intended for students who have an identity-related need for a roommate of a different biological sex (e.g. trans+, non-binary and non-gender conforming students) or other housing considerations based on their identity. With that in mind, please select which best matches why you selected “yes” as to why you were interested in more information regarding Gender Inclusive Housing:

Please select below: (Required)

You'll then be asked some additional questions about Gender Inclusive Housing. Please note: You'll also need to add all preferred roommates into your Roommate Group on the next page.

Additional Gender Inclusive Housing Information

Do you have an intended roommate in mind? (Required)

No

If yes to the above, please provide their name and their LUC ID number (if known):

Is there anything else you would like to share or request for your housing assignment?

Save & Continue

Your answers to “Is there anything else you would like to share or request for your housing assignment?” are kept private and are only accessible to housing staff.

Please note that all gender inclusive students participate in room selection. You will not be administratively assigned by housing staff.

You'll then be taken to the Gender Inclusive Roommate Groups page. You're able to search for specific roommates or even browse potential matches if you don't have someone in mind. You're able to send potential roommates messages to get to know if you would be a good fit. You can only find and be found by other students who indicated interest in Gender Inclusive Housing.

Common Issues:

All students who have a preferred gender inclusive housing roommate need to select “I meet the criteria above...” in order to be found by students interested in gender inclusive housing.

Can't find someone? Check to make sure they did not select “I don't need gender inclusive housing but am open to living with a student who does“ as this will not allow them to add or be found by students interested in gender inclusive housing.

Once you are in a roommate group, you won't be able to be found by other students. If you can't find your preferred roommate, ask them to try sending you a request. They may already have formed a roommate group.
