COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course investigates the major developments in Italian painting, sculpture and architecture from antiquity to the twentieth century. The course, organized into centuries, schools and artistic tendencies, begins with ancient Rome and will be followed by the Early Christian, Medieval, Renaissance, Baroque to Modern era. Lessons are held predominately on site in archeological sites, churches and museums to examine relevant artworks in Rome.

Course objectives

The course is intended to promote the following abilities and skills:

To familiarize the students with terminology of art history, that is, an understanding of art in relation to historical context, the roles of artists and patrons, iconography, and style and to help them to understand the processes and materials of artistic production.

Skills will be developed for the critical analysis of visual culture and for discussing the aesthetical contents of art works in relation to their historical, social and cultural contexts.

Learning outcomes

- Visual Analysis: Students will develop the ability to identify and analyze specific artworks, buildings, and urban projects, enhancing their visual literacy through the decoding of iconography, style, content, and form.
- Art Historical Vocabulary: Students will acquire and apply the proper terminology in the description of artworks, facilitating a deeper understanding of artistic expression.
- Interpretation and Argumentation: Students will be equipped to construct well-supported, coherent arguments concerning works of art, integrating critical analysis and evidence derived from both visual and contextual observations.

- Chronology and Context: Students will engage with the chronological narrative of the Eternal City, comprehending its historical and cultural layers through an interdisciplinary lens.
- Empathy and Viewer Response: Students will analyze and consider the varied responses of viewers to artworks, incorporating iconography, allegory, and affectivity, thereby fostering both intellectual and emotional engagement with art.
- Recognition and Interpretation: After identifying and contextualizing artworks, students will cultivate the ability to interpret and explore multiple meanings, acknowledging the complexity inherent in the visual arts.

On-site classes:

- Because of heavy traffic and crowded buses, you should leave the Rome Center more than one hour before the beginning of class. Information on the site can be found in the syllabus.
- Audio headsets will be handed out at each on-site meeting. Please handle these with care and return them at the end of class.
- Please do not eat and smoke during the on-site lectures.
- Always have a student ID while on-site.
- Many churches enforce a dress code, therefore students are expected to wear proper attire to all site visits.

Assessment Components:

Student's final grade will be based on:

- One in-class test (Midterm): 40% of the final grade.
- One take-home paper (Final): 40% of the final grade.
- participation: 20% of the final grade.

Grading Policy:

The following grading scale will be applied for determining the final grade:

Presentation: A=20; A-=18; B+=17; B=16; B-=15; C+=14; C=13; C-=12; D+=12; D=11; F=10

Midterm and Final (each): A=40; A-=37; B+=36; B=34; B-=33; C+=32; C=30; C-=29; D+=27; D=26; F=24

Final Grade: A = 94-100; A- = 90-93; B+ = 87-89; B = 84-86; B- = 80-83; C+ = 77-79; C = 74-76; C- = 70-73; D+ = 67-69; D = 60-66; F = 59 and below

Attendance Policy:

In accordance with the Rome Center mission to promote a higher level of academic rigor, all courses adhere to the following attendance policy. Prompt attendance, preparation and active participation in course discussions are expected from every student. Any lateness or leaving class early will impact the final course grade.

Attendance is mandatory at every class meeting for each course. Absence due to sickness or injury needs to be corroborated by a doctor's note. Students late to class twice will be credited with one absence in accordance with the JFRC's Attendance policy. Three (3) absences will result in an automatic failure (F). Travel does not constitute reason to miss class.

Class Conduct:

One important aspect of a Jesuit education is learning to respect the rights and opinions of others. Please respect others by (1) allowing all classmates the right to voice their opinions without fear of ridicule, and (2) not using profanity or making objectionable (including gendered, racial or ethnic) comments, especially comments directed at a classmate.

Sakai:

All course materials will be located on Sakai which can be accessed at <https://sakai.luc.edu> Sakai is a web based learning management system. You will be able to access it from any computer connected to the internet. Instructional guides and video tutorials for using Sakai are available at: <http://www.luc.edu/itrs/sakai/sakai-student-tutorials.shtml>

Course content, including syllabi, reading material etc. will be available online. Students should check Sakai often for announcements, assignments, and other course content.

Email Messages:

All email messages sent to students about this course will be sent to their Loyola email address. Students are expected to check their Loyola email address on a regular basis. You can access your web based LUC email account at <https://outlook.luc.edu>

Special Circumstances--Receiving Assistance:

Students are urged to contact their instructors should they have questions concerning course materials and procedures. If you have any special circumstance that may have some impact on your course work, please let your instructors know so they can establish a plan for assignment completion. If you require assignment accommodations, please contact your instructors early in the semester so that arrangements can be made with Student Accessibility Center (SAC) (<http://www.luc.edu/sac/>).

Copyright:

Copyright law was designed to give rights to the creators of written work, artistic work, computer programs and other creative materials. The Copyright Act requires that people who use or reference the work of others must follow a set of guidelines designed to protect authors' rights. Unfortunately, copyright law is complex and too often incomprehensible; that does not, however, excuse users from following the rules. The safest practice is to remember (1) to refrain from distributing works used in class (whether distributed by the professor or used for research); they are likely copyright protected and (2) that any research or creative work should be cited. For LUC's copyright resources check online: <http://www.luc.edu/copyright>

Intellectual Property:

All lectures, notes and other instructional materials in this course are the intellectual property of the professor. As a result, they may not be distributed or shared in any manner, either on paper or virtually without my written permission. Lectures may not be recorded without my written consent; when consent is given, those recordings may be used for review only and may not be distributed. Recognizing that your work, too, is your intellectual property, I will not share or distribute your work in any form without your written permission.

Privacy Statement

Assuring privacy among faculty and students engaged in online and face-to-face instructional activities helps promote open and robust conversations and mitigates concerns that comments made within the context of the class will be shared beyond the classroom. As such, recordings of instructional activities occurring in online or face-to-face classes may be used solely for internal class purposes by the faculty member and students registered for the course, and only during the period in which the course is offered. Students will be informed of such recordings by a statement in the syllabus for the course in which they will be recorded. Instructors who wish to make subsequent use of recordings that include student activity may do so only with informed written consent of the students involved or if all student activity is removed from the recording.

Recordings including student activity that have been initiated by the instructor may be retained by the instructor only for individual use.

Accessibility Accommodations

Students registered with the Student Accessibility Center requiring academic accommodations should contact the Office of the Dean at the John Felice Rome Center, the first week of classes.

Harassment (Bias Reporting):

It is unacceptable and a violation of university policy to harass, discriminate against or abuse any person because of his or her race, color, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, disability, religion, age or any other characteristic protected by applicable law. Such behavior threatens to destroy the environment of tolerance and mutual respect that must prevail for this university to fulfill its educational and health care mission. For this reason, every incident of harassment, discrimination or abuse undermines the aspirations and attacks the ideals of our community. The university qualifies these incidents as incidents of bias.

In order to uphold our mission of being Chicago's Jesuit Catholic University-- a diverse community seeking God in all things and working to expand knowledge in the service of humanity through learning, justice and faith, any incident(s) of bias must be reported and appropriately addressed. Therefore, the Bias Response (BR) Team was created to assist members of the Loyola University Chicago community in bringing incidents of bias to the attention of the university. If you believe you are subject to such bias, you should notify the Bias Response Team at this link:

<http://webapps.luc.edu/biasreporting/>

Statement on Title IX

The Rome Center follows Loyola's Comprehensive Policy and Procedures for Addressing Discrimination, Sexual Misconduct, Retaliation and will comply with those as indicated and instructed.

Technology:

Students are expected to know how to use Sakai and its features, be able to navigate the internet to explore resources, and to use the electronic resources available through LUC's library homepage.

Workload Expectations:

As an average, students should expect to dedicate about 8 hours per week to fulfill course activities, including readings/review of materials, assignments, lessons, etc.

Academic Integrity:

Academic integrity is the pursuit of scholarly activity in an open, honest, and responsible manner. Academic integrity is a guiding principle for all academic activity at Loyola University Chicago, and all members of the University community are expected to act in accordance with this principle.

Failing to meet the following academic integrity standards is a serious violation of personal honesty and the academic ideals that bind the University into a learning community. These standards apply to both individual and group assignments. Individuals working in a group may be held responsible if one of the group members has violated one or more of these standards.

1. Students may not plagiarize.
2. Students may not submit the same work for credit for more than one assignment (known as self-plagiarism).
3. Students may not fabricate data.
4. Students may not collude.
5. Students may not cheat.
6. Student may not facilitate academic misconduct.

Follow this link for more details about these standards, sanctions, and academic misconduct procedures: (https://www.luc.edu/academics/catalog/undergrad/reg_academicintegrity.shtml)
