

THEOLOGY (MA)

The MA degree program is appropriate for students seeking either a terminal degree or a degree that will prepare them to pursue a doctoral degree. Applicants can be admitted to the program on a part-time basis. Many courses are conveniently scheduled during late afternoon or evening hours.

Curriculum

The Master of Arts in Theology requires 30 credit hours of coursework and a comprehensive examination. Students may choose to concentrate in one of four areas: Theological Studies, Biblical Languages and Literature, Biblical Studies, or Christian Ethics. There is also an option to add an Education minor.

Concentrations

Theological Studies

This concentration emphasizes exposure to the full range of theological investigation.

Code	Title	Hours
Required Courses
	Two courses in Biblical Studies	6
	Two courses in Systematic or Historical Theology	6
	Two courses in Christian Ethics	6
	Four Graduate Electives	12
Total Hours		30

Biblical Languages and Literature

The concentration in Biblical Languages and Literature provides students with the initial language and biblical study necessary to apply to doctoral programs in Biblical Studies. Half of the coursework is in biblical Greek and Hebrew. This concentration requires an additional 6cr hours due to intensive language requirements.

Code	Title	Hours
Required Courses
	Four courses in Major Biblical Language (Hebrew or Greek)	12
	Two courses in Minor Biblical Language (Hebrew or Greek)	6
	Two courses in Old Testament	6
	Two courses in New Testament	6
	One course in Systematic or Historical Theology	3
	One course in Christian Ethics	3
Total Hours		36

Biblical Studies

This concentration is suited to students with a particular interest in Biblical Studies, but does not incorporate the language study necessary for doctoral work in Biblical Studies.

Code	Title	Hours
Required Courses
	Five courses in Biblical Studies	15
	One course in Systematic or Historical Theology	3
	One course in Christian Ethics	3

Three Graduate Electives	9
Total Hours	30

Christian Ethics

This concentration is similar to the concentration in Theological Studies, but requires more coursework in Christian Ethics.

Code	Title	Hours
Required Courses
	Five courses in Christian Ethics	15
	Two courses in Systematic of Historical Theology	6
	Two courses in Biblical Studies	6
	One Graduate Elective	3
Total Hours		30

Bioethics & Health Care Policy

The concentration in Bioethics and Health Care Policy is offered jointly with the Neiswanger Institute for Bioethics and Healthcare Leadership. This concentration is appropriate for students interested in pursuing a social ethical understanding of bioethics. Courses in this concentration address the history of bioethics including the issues of racism and eugenics; methods and approaches in medical ethics and bioethics (ethnography, narrative bioethics, feminist bioethics); and topics in bioethics such as reproductive medicine and reproductive justice, genetics, disability ethics, spiritual care ethics, end of life, and healthcare justice.

Total Hours		30

Education Minor

Students seeking an MA in any of our four concentrations can pursue a minor in Education. This option is excellent preparation for those who plan to teach theology at the high school level, where candidates with a combination of academic theological training and teacher training are in high demand.

Required Courses

Code	Title	Hours
CIEP 414	Instructional Methods-Diverse Population	3
CIEP 423	Advanced Literacy Instruction in the Content Area	3
CIEP 425	Theory and Practice in Assessment	3
CIEP 458	Classroom Management	3

For those students who choose this option, the Theology Department will recognize two of these four required School of Education courses as fulfilling two electives in the MA program. The other two School of Education courses are in addition to the usual MA course requirements. Students frequently take these additional two courses during the summer.

Graduate & Professional Standards and Regulations

Students in graduate and professional programs can find their Academic Policies in Graduate and Professional Academic Standards and Regulations (<https://catalog.luc.edu/graduate-professional-academic-standards-regulations/>) under their school. Any additional University Policies supercede school policies.

OBJECTIVES:

1. Provide students with advanced mastery of theological traditions and disciplines (all M.A. programs):
2. Help students aiming at a teaching career to gain pedagogical skills and excellence (especially M.A. THEO/EDU MINOR).
3. Provide mastery in the intersection of the advanced study of theology and Women's and Gender Studies (Dual M.A. THEO/WSGS)
4. Support the Jesuit Order's First Studies Program at Loyola
5. Forward the Jesuit mission and identity of Loyola University Chicago

ASSESSMENT

1. All M.A. Students are required to take rigorous courses, giving students a solid foundation in theological traditions and disciplines. At the end of the program, each student takes a comprehensive written exam. The questions in these exams are tailored to the students' course record and interest.
2. M.A. students can participate in many of the pedagogical opportunities that we offer as a department, e.g., course design, assessment tools, etc., which are especially pertinent to the M.A. THEO/EDU MINOR students.
3. M.A. students in the dual degree program with WSGS are assessed in coordination with the WSGS program but must meet all Theology requirements.
4. The M.A. program regularly enrolls Jesuit scholastics in a wide range of our courses as they pursue the M.A. in Social Philosophy from the Philosophy Department. Their presence enriches our classes and our diversity of students enriches the scholastics' educational breadth of experience. Occasionally, Theology faculty direct or advise their M.A. theses.
5. Our M.A. students are exposed to the many programs across the university that support the Jesuit mission, to which our department's faculty contribute. In particular, the Healing Earth Project, an online tool to teach environmental science in secondary schools, integrated with ethics and spirituality, allows M.A. students who will teach in high schools to excel in this area.
