Biographical History

Angela Hibbard (Marie Benjamin) was born on October 20, 1942, in Ohio. Hibbard had a typical Catholic upbringing and attended Catholic schools in her youth and graduated from Saint Mary Academy High School, class of 1960. She attended Marygrove College, where she graduated with a B.A. in English and Minor in Social Studies in 1965. She went on to earn an M.A. in Pastoral Ministry, an M.Ed. in Reading Education, and a secondary teaching certificate also from Marygrove College. In 1981 she took classes at the University of Michigan-Dearborn where she received a certification for special education of the emotionally impaired. In 1984 she attended Oakland University where she studied abroad in Japan at Nanzan University and graduated with an M.A. in Area Studies. After these extensive studies, Hibbard earned a Doctor of Ministry from the Catholic Theological Union in Chicago in 1999. Her area of focus for this degree was on the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults and its relationship to parish life.

It was during a senior retreat at Saint Mary Academy where Hibbard met a group of Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary (IHM) Sisters and became inspired to join the order. In particular, she encountered Sister Mary Chabanea as a teacher and natural leader, becoming a role model for her future with the order. In fall of 1960, she entered the IHM community.

Also central to her life and work was her interest in music. She learned to play the piano and guitar and to sing. During her time at Marygrove College, she sang with the college's choir with whom she traveled to Ireland, England, and Russia. At the Gesu Parish in Detroit, she directed their folk music group and participated in the music ministry.

Throughout her own education, she was missioned to teach for a variety of institutions and grade levels: Holy Name School 5th grade geography (1965-1966); St. Bede School fifth grade language arts (1966-1969); Merrill Palmer Institute liturgy coordinator (1969-1971); Robert F. Kennedy Secondary School reading teacher (1971-1973); Vista Maria Learning Center supervisor, curriculum planner, educational counselor, and language arts teacher (1973-1982), Ecumenical Theological Seminary, and the University of Detroit Mercy. Her teaching at the secondary level focused on the language arts, liturgical studies, and teaching emotionally impaired students.

In the 1980s into the 1990s, Sister Angela was involved with Anti-Handgun Association [AHA!], a Detroit-based anti-gun advocacy group. She served as the president of the organization in 1990. The organization dissolved in 1995.

Hibbard started to attend Charismatic Renewal meetings in Ann Arbor, MI, and the movement became a central part of her life. During these two-hour long meetings, a group of ~125 people participated in worship, spontaneous prayer (which included prophecies, glossolalia, and interpretation), sharing of experiences, and a 15-minute talk by one of the leaders. Hibbard served as the Adult Faith Formation Coordinator at St. Ephrem's Parish in Sterling Heights, Michigan from 2000 to 2002. In 2004 and 2005 she spoke at a charismatic conference in the Kobe area of Japan. She went into pastoral ministry at Gesu Parish where she hosted charismatic prayer services and participated in their music ministry. She oversaw parish liturgies for twelve years and in 2010 took on the role of Faith Formation Coordinator, retiring in 2019. Also in 2010, Hibbard served on the Archdiocesan Worship Commission, the committee advising the Archbishop of Detroit about liturgical matters.

She has had several articles published in religious periodicals. Hibbard has also had two books published: Dying with Jesus in 2003 and Worship Committees That Work in 2004.
